

Subject Lecture on Environmental Movements

Report

The Faculty of Education is pleased to present the report on the Subject Lecture titled “Environmental Movements,” delivered by Dr. P. Senthamizh Pavai, Assistant Professor, on August 8, 2025, at 10:30 a.m. in K101 – Smart Room, Adayalampattu Campus.

The session aimed to provide an in-depth understanding of the origin, evolution and significance of environmental movements in India and around the world. She highlighted various landmark movements such as the Chipko Movement, Silent Valley Movement and Narmada Bachao Andolan, discussing their impact on environmental policy and public awareness.

She emphasized how grassroots activism, along with the active participation of tribal and rural communities, plays a crucial role in promoting sustainable development and shaping environmental awareness. The lecture encouraged students to critically reflect on current environmental challenges and the need for collective action.

The session was highly informative and thought-provoking, contributing greatly to the academic enrichment of the participants.
