S.N	Description	Observation
1	Observation related to academic work	The overall academic work is above average. The students are made to work hard. However the faculty members need to inculcate more critical and innovative thinking amongst in the courses. Whereas faculty members appear to be sincere, they need to bring themselves to speed with the critical latest concerns of the profession. Students explore more in 2-dimension drawings and less in models. Some times the studio exercises are too large in scale and lack critical perspective
2	Interaction with faculty	Faculty members seem satisfied with their working condition. Many of them have been in the institute for a long time. They are financially supported to attend conference and seminars. Many of them have higher degrees and are doing good research. However they need to be more aware of the recent trends in architectural design and key issues that should be of concern to students of architecture.
3	Interaction with students	Students are motivated and enjoy a cordial relationship with students. Many of their difficulties are resolved by faculty members.
4	Interaction with head of institution	The head of institution is very motivated and mature in her outlook. She has been guiding her team well.
5	Interaction with management	Management is extremely supportive of the faculty of Architecture and receptive to their demands.
6	Final observation comments	The institutions shows good energy and commitment towards academics. Their infrastructure is in place and the management is willing to put in more resources for the architecture program. Whereas they do have good academics in terms of student output, they need a better focus. The assignments are often very dated and refer to old references leading to information collection. The faculty members need to include more critical questions in their assignment brief and they need to be more imaginative. The faculty members should focus on better design of exercises while demanding innovation from students. Having said that, the presence of many senior faculty member is an asset. They are receptive and willing to improve. The institute is undertaking many different activities like seminar, conferences, lectures, tours etc. which is very nice. However the institute need to better document these activities. They also now need a clear road map for future. The plan for future should not only be one of infratructure upgradation but also academic improvement. Looking at the team and leadership, I am optimistic that they can improve and deliver quality education in future.
7	Discrepancy[if any]	By mistake they have not shown Associate Professor for additional 60 intake. Now they have rectified the same.

Overall Observation

The institutions shows good energy and commitment towards academics. Their infrastructure is in place and the management is willing to put in more resources for the architecture program.
