TITLE

National Symposium KALAM '23

CONTENT

The department of ECE, conducted the 20th National level technical symposium Kalam'23 entitled ELECTRA. The theme 'ELECTRA' emerged as a celebration of our nation's proudest achievement—the successful launch of Chandrayan 3. Within the theme 'ELECTRA,' we encapsulate seven distinct themes, each representing a vital aspect of this remarkable mission. E- Embedded System, L- Linear systems and control theory, E-Electrogram, C-Cryptography, T-Transmission lines, R-Robotics & A-Automation.

The inauguration of the symposium commenced on 11th September at 10.30 am with Tamil thai valthu followed by the lighting of kuthuvilaku by the dignitaries. The welcome address was delivered by Dr. U. Jayalathsumi, HoD. The brief summary of KALAM 23 was presented by our final-year student secretary, Mr. Ranjith. The chief guest was introduced by Dr. K. Sudhaman, Deputy Head of ECE. The chief guest was then felicitated by Dr. T. Kalpalatha Reddy, Add. Dean E&T (Academics). The inaugural address was delivered by Indian scientist Dr. V. Subbarao, ISRO SRIHARIKOTA. In his address he shared the experience gained in the Chandrarayan-1 and Chandrarayan-2 mission to the audience. The distinguished Guest of Honor, Mr. Umashankar, managing director of Anushri System Private Limited, was welcomed by Dr. K. S. Thivya, Prof/ECE (KALAM Co-ordinator) for presenting his keynote address. During his keynote talk, he
