REPORT

TITLE

Interdisciplinary Lecture on " India's National security"

CONTENT

The Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering successfully hosted an interdisciplinary lecture on "India's National Security" on July 25, 2025, at the VLSI Lab. The keynote speaker, Mr. B. Shrinivasan, HOD i/c of the Department of Defence and Strategic Studies, delivered an in-depth analysis of internal and external threats to national sovereignty, highlighting cross-border terrorism and the role of fringe groups.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks from Dr. A. Srikrishnan, Assistant Professor. The event was expertly coordinated by Mr. B. Ramesh, Assistant Professor, under the guidance of Dr. U. Jayalathsumi, Head of the Department, providing students with valuable insights into national security.

This enlightening session broadened students' understanding of national security challenges. The Department extends its heartfelt gratitude to our Honorable President for his unwavering support and all the executives for their constant encouragement in all academic endeavors
